

Please leave XM Satellite Radio alone. It is now offering a local weather and traffic information in certain cities, and should be allowed to do so. Ever hear of freedom of speech, oops forgot, this is the FCC. You should make regular radio stations compete, not use the government to do there jobs. If they offered a good product, then they would not have to worry. Again, please keep you hands off of satellite radio. You want to stifle any new technology. Get with the program and be forward thinking.
